

IRELAND

2019

Welcome to a photographic and inspirational journey on the green island, where music and Guinness are not only cliché, but the unruly nature plays its own unique melodies and brews its own mixtures.

☺ Welcome on the green island, where the music of untameable natures brews its own unique Guinness. ☺

The superb views along Irelands' spectacular Wild Atlantic Way (here: near Dingle) let not only the hearts of photographers jump higher – Sept. 2018

☯ There is always a path, even if it's not immediately apparent. Find the one which is yours. 😊

At one of the first bays of Dingle Peninsula people enjoy their meditative barefoot walk at the endless beach during any kind of weather – Sept. 2018

☺ Do not overcome every obstacle in your life with effort. Sometimes it's easier to go around. ☺

The unique landscape of the limestone plateau Burren in the lower Shannon County invites to long, lonesome walks along the coast – Sept. 2018

☺ Every darkness, every shadow passes by. Be your own light. ☺

Sunset at the most Western point of Dingle Peninsula, where beside sheep only Star Wars Film Crews and some tourists get lost – Sept. 2018

☯ Trust your intuition: it guides you, when the view on things fogs up. 😊

The most Western point of Beara Peninsula is Dursey Island. Only 2 people are living here. It is only accessible with a very old gondola – Sept. 2018

☺ Achieve also the goals, which seem to be unattainable for you, by using your yearning and willpower. ☺

Erris Head in Belmullet's north-west is surely one of the least visited coastal Ireland treks by tourists – Sept. 2018

☺ Grant your mind more often silence, peace and mirroring smoothness to discover more of you. ☺

The medieval city of Kilkenny is obviously one of the most picturesque and charming places in the center of Ireland – August 2018

☺ Spring into the waves of life with full energy and let carry you along by their natural rhythm. ☺

I enjoyed the evening atmosphere at the beach of Sleá Head all by myself and shared the view to Blasket Islands only with seagulls and seals – Sept. 2018

☯ Have a pause at the end of the day and be grateful for the color games, it has offered you. 😊

The amazing sunset on Mullet Peninsula was one of these stunning gifts, which the artist nature produces every day – Sept. 2018

☺ Look into the distance of the world and at the same time into the depth of your soul. ☺

The meditation monastery of Dzogchen Beara is a spiritual oasis of silence and encounters, embedded in a landscape paradise – August 2018

☺ Free the layers of your fears and enjoy, how the universe reflects in your heart. ☺

At the beach of Glenbeigh (Ring of Kerry) the invitation is: feel the harmonic game of sand and sea on your feet for hours – Sept. 2018

☺ If you have gloomy thoughts, grab a rescue umbrella and fly towards the sun. ☺

The creative force of men to bring other people into a consumption mood (like here in Kilkenny), creates grotesque admiration – August 2018

☺ Take advantage of the end of a path / year for a conscious and benevolent look back. ☺

The Cliffs of Moher with a length of 14 km and a height of 155 m are the most well-known cliffs of Ireland, but also ideal breeding ground for birds – Sept. 2018

☺ Be alive and happy as long as it is possible. The limitation of life is certain for all of us. ☺

Bonus-Pic: "Traditional" cementries, cathedrales and castles like here in Kilkenny shape the impage of a place just as the music in the pubs – August 2018
