

NEW ZEALAND

2014

A photographic, philosophical and inspirational journey through the land of the Hobbits and Kiwis, where endless sandy beaches, wild forests and deep blue lakes thrill people to live in harmony with nature.

☺ Welcome on Aoteora, where nature spreads its wild palette of colors and firms voluptuously. ☺
New Zealand - land of the long, white cloud - shows its typical soul during the view from Paku Hill nearby Tairua (Coromandel) – April 2013

☯ Whatever awaits you behind a mountain you have conquered, you'll be someone else. ☺

View on New Zealand's highest mountain Mount Cook (3.753 m) in the Aoraki national park from Lake Pukaki (NZ South Island) – March 2013

☺ Take a short cut if it promises you a new experience. Otherwise, enjoy the apparent detour. ☺

The Tasmanian Sea at New Zealand's West Coast washes bizarre shapes of drift wood ashore on Haast Beach (NZ South Island) – March 2013

☯ Meet the waves of life with love instead of resistance. 😊

Famous Pancake Rocks Punakaiki withstand wind and water by transforming themselves into unique rock formations (South Island) – March 2013

☺ Draw from the colorful diversity. You are the artist of your life image. ☺

The geothermic wonderland of Orakei Korako between Taupo and Roturua shows how alive our Earth's crust is (NZ North Island) – April 2013

☺ Stability and balance are not issues of the underground, but of attitude. ☺

The longest suspension bridge with a span of 110 m guarantees unique flying highs over the spectacular Buller Gorge (South Island) – April 2013

☺ Take off bravely. Let go of proven and tackle new. ☺

Not only in Nelson outdoor freaks and active Kiwis enjoy nature, e.g. with kite-surfing (NZ South Island) – April 2013

☺ The shell gives us the strength of its beauty, because it has an eventful life behind it. ☺

Millions of shells decorate the beaches in the most various constellations, like here at the dreamlike Waikanae Beach (NZ North Island) – April 2013

🌀 Jump courageously and curiously out of the water, befor you submerge again. It is worth it. 😊
A swarm of hector dolphins amazes us with their artistic flight and hunting skills off the coast of Kaikoura (NZ South Island) – April 2013

👁️ Enjoying the moment does not mean to lose sight of the goal. 😊

Mount Ngauruhoe (2.291 m) enlightens red in the evening light. He is the most active volcano in New Zealand (NZ North Island) – April 2013

☺ Who wants to see and experience more should outgrow himself. ☺

A shining tree in the morning sun near Taupo (Huka Falls) longs for the other shore side of the Waikato Rivers (NZ North Island) – April 2013

☺ When you meet your shadow welcome him with joy and warmth. ☺

Nikola jumps on the gigantic Te Pake Dunes in the direction of Kauaeaparaoa Stream at 90 Miles Beach (NZ North Island) – April 2013

☺ Look lovingly and non-judgmental on what is created, when the day thoughtlessly draws to an end. ☺
Only a few tourists marvel at the unique sunset in the far off and enchanting Golden Bay (NZ South Island) – April 2013

☺ Set out on an unintentional search. There are so many wonderful things to discover. ☺

Bonus: Gordana and Nikola loose space and time during the search for shells at the beach of the sacred Mt. Maunganui (North Island) – April 2013

THANK YOU

for your

TIME