

EGYPT

2013

A photographic and philosophical journey through a motional land of deserts, which tries to preserve its unbelievable history, architectonical wonders and cultural heritage of mankind, with tourism.

☺ Welcome to the land of the deserts, where cultural wonders, green oasis and colorful fish fascinate. ☺
View from a restaurant on the green islands of the river Nile and their noble houses, nearby the Aswan dam (Nile River Cruise) – November 2012

☺ Find your essence. Open the gates of your heart and look the guardians of your fears in the eye. ☺

Two colossal statues of Pharaoh Ramses II gracefully adorn the entrance to the large colonnade in the Temple of Luxor – November 2012

☺ Every journey starts with a first step, independent from the footwear. ☺

A colorful variety of flip-flops (invented by the Egypt 5000 years ago) decorates the bazar street Sharia el-Suk in Aswan – November 2012

☺ Separate yourself from ropes, which tie you up, and hold tight on those giving you a fresh breeze. ☺

Looking at the mausoleum of Aga Khan during a safe sailing trip on a felucca to Kitchener Island just outside of Aswan – November 2012

☺ If you have accomplished something wonderful, look with pride and serenity on your deeds. ☺
Elderly gentleman sitting in front of Chepren-Pyramid of Giza seems hardly aware of this world famous landmark (Cairo) – November 2012

☺ Any concern about a successful landing should not deter you to take off from time to time. ☺
Flying Tourist whiling away the boredom with a paraglider, while umbrellas are sweating beneath him (Makadi Bay) – November 2012

☺ To recognize the greatness of creation it is sometimes worthwhile to dive into other worlds. ☺

A beautiful, even though highly toxic fire fish circles around the battered house reef of Makadi Hotel Chain – November 2012

☺ Stretch out your arms to dance with the heaven on earth. ☺

In the temple of Hathor, the goddess of love and joy, shines the goddess of heaven Nut in a more than 2000 years old blue (Dendera) – Nov. 2012

☺ Feel how good it does to slide again as a pirate over all the conventions and rules. ☺

With over 25 slides, the water park in the Makadi Bay is not only great fun for children (30 km South of Hurghada) – November 2012

☺ If you come inwardly and mindfully to a rest, you feel that you are part of the whole. ☺

The in the temple complex of Luxor apparently meditating Ramses II (1290-1224 BC) was Egypt's most famous Pharaoh / Builder – Nov. 2012

☺ Give the supporting pillars of your life sufficient care, light and love. ☺

The forest of columns (number: 136 pieces, size: 10 m, height: 21 m) in the temple complex of Karnak makes just speechless (Luxor) – Nov. 2012

☺ Harness the power of reflection. It is a fascinating way to self-knowledge. ☺

A typical landscape along the river Nile: fertile farmland, date palms and, where the water cannot reach, desert sand – November 2012

☺ If you are wrapped by darkness, ignite a light and see how many stars are already sparkling in you. ☺
The light show at Karnak Temple lets Egypt's history shine in the wildest colors up till the Valley of the Kings (horizon) – November 2012

☯ Life may seem chaotic. The decisive factor is how vivid power and energies flow in us. ☺

Bonus-Picture: Various cables and electrical lines supply the unprotected hopefully less confused inhabitants of the old town of Aswan – Nov. 2012

THANK YOU

for your

TIME