

TENERIFFA

2007

A photographic and philosophical journey through one of the Canaries Islands, which not only produces with its climate a variety of bizarre landscapes but well-known artefacts.

☺ Welcome on the island of contrasts and contradictions, where waters and rocks triumph! ☺

View on the curvy road down to Taganana in the northern east of Tenerife – September 2006

☺ No matter which window you look through this year, you decide what you see and what you feel. ☺

View to the nearness and distance on the pass Boca Taude in the Teide Nationalpark in the heart of Teneriffa – September 2006

☺ Find shelter and security under the roof, from which the source of love bubbles. ☺

View on the gardens Jardines Marquesquado de la Quinta Roja in the town of La Oratava with Puerto de la Cruz in the distance – September 2006

☺ Enjoy on the peak of your earthly happiness that there are still things floating above you. ☺

View on the highest mountain of Spain, the vulcano Teide (3718 m), from the information centre of Teide Nationalpark – September 2006

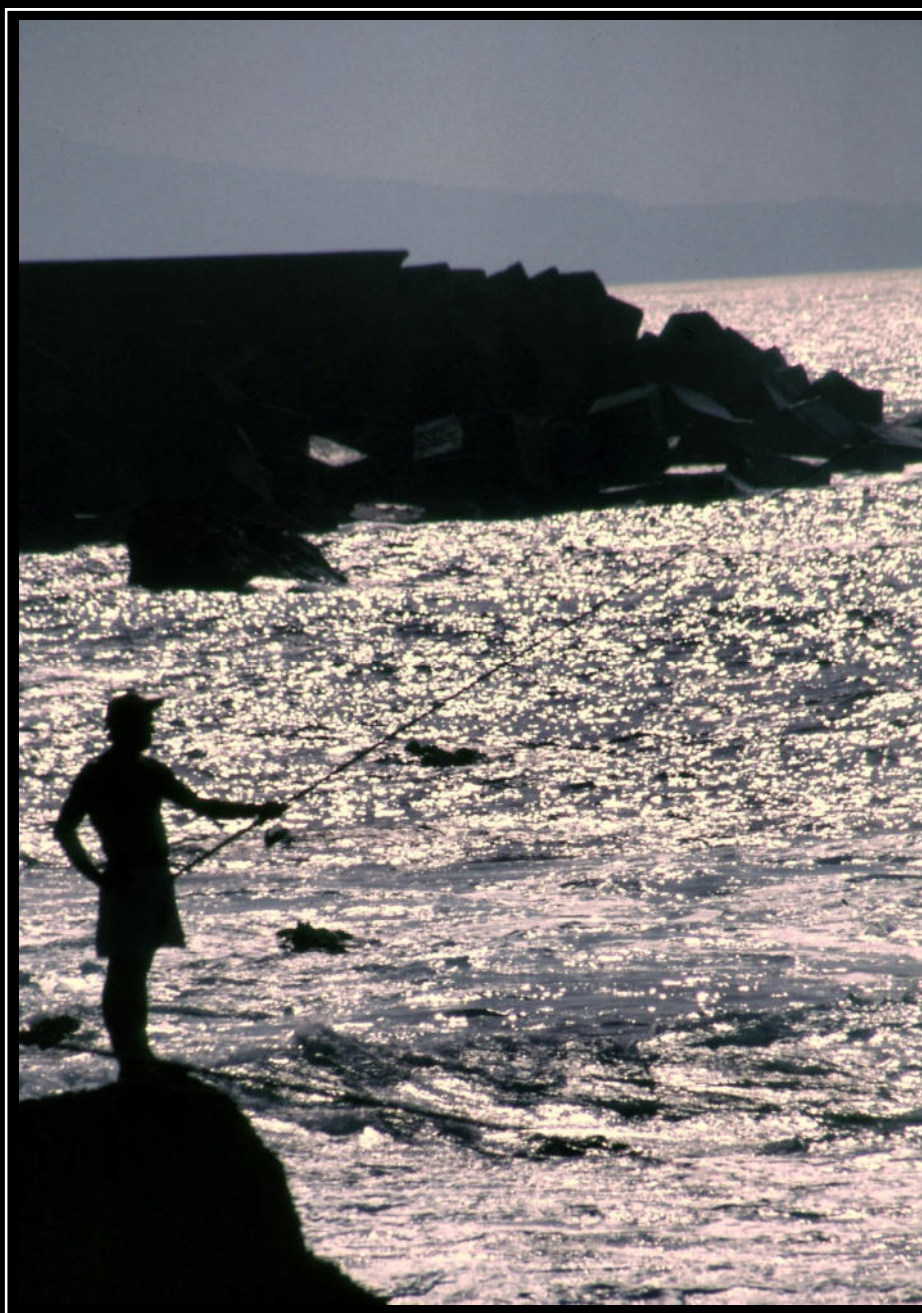

☺ You are water, you are stone – you don't need more for your happy being. ☺

Waves playing in the little, quiet black-sandy bay Playa Los Guios on the edge of the famous rocks of Los Gigantes – September 2006

☺ Trust your steps also in unknown waters. This faith will carry you. ☺

Water lilies in the botanical garden of Puerto de la Cruz in the northern part of Tenerife – September 2006

☯ Have patience, endurance and confidence. You surely will be rewarded with inner peace. 😊

Successful (?), but content angler in the harbour of Puerto de la Cruz – September 2006

☺ The straighter your walk of life, the more exciting it is to stroll of the road. ☺

Long stretches highway in the Teide Nationalpark in the heart of Teneriffa – September 2006

☯ Dive into the mirrors of your past and drift without sorrow into the future. ☺

Bay with breakers on the very far north-western corner of Teneriffa (Punta de Teno) – September 2006

© Even the most beautiful facade will crumble. Your inner substances will always support you. ☺

Front of a house in the mostly bare city of Santa Cruz in the north-eastern part of Teneriffa – September 2006

☺ You can't escape the waves of life, but you can learn how to surf on them. ☺
Water and sand are balancing at the Playa de Benijo in the north-eastern part of Tenerife – September 2006

☺ Not the size decides how you are perceived by others, but your unique expression. ☺

The so called Los Roques with vulcano Teide in the background in the heart of Teneriffa – September 2006

© Allow yourself especially in hectic times a break; Santa Claus and turtles are also taking it easy. ©

Two "talking" brick figures at a private entrance in Punta de Hidalgo in the north-eastern part of Teneriffa – September 2006

☺ It is rarely unambiguous and clear, what the future will bring. But isn't she attractive? ☺
