

WINEYARDS

2005

A photographical and inspirational journey through the colorful country of the winemakers, where every noble drop that is created delights the taste buds and enchants the heart of man.

© Welcome to the kingdom of vines, where grapes become wines and wines become legends. ©

View from the Kappelberg nearby Stuttgart-Fellbach during the so called "Swabian Summer" – November 1999

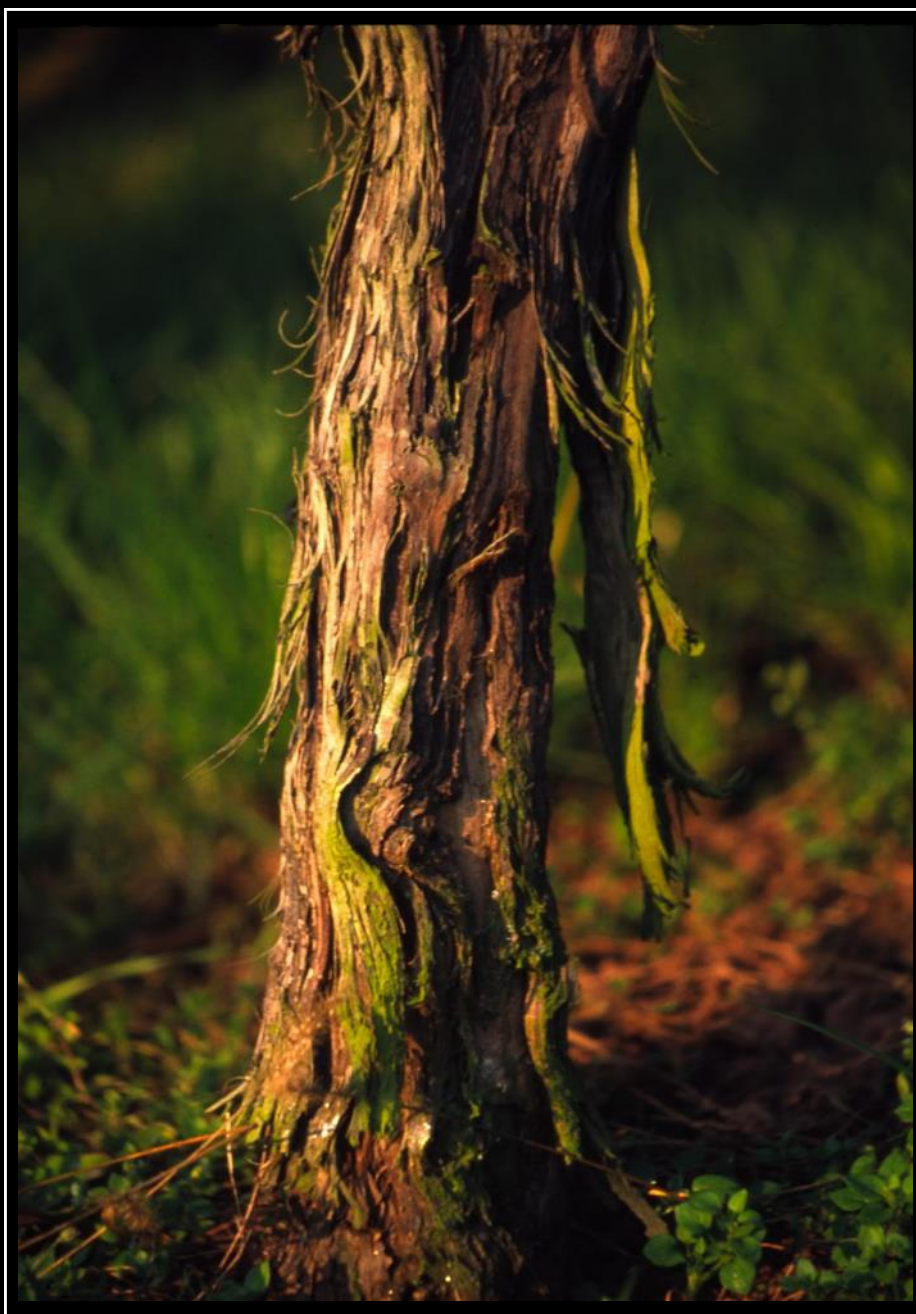

☺ If your life roles back and forth in a hollow, slosh with your last energy over the edge. ☺

The Kappelberg nearby Stuttgart-Fellbach covered in a powdery gown of snow – November 1999

☺ Don't let yourself bent. Bow only in front of your real creator: nature. ☺

The Kappelberg nearby Stuttgart-Fellbach in a sunny spring storm— April 1997

☯ Things which detach from you or which you split off are a great chance for renewal and change. 😊

Old vine covered with moss— October 2005

© Dare to make a difference towards the rest. Only then they will start to question themselves. ©

Red-yellow vine leaves shine in the autumnal evening light – November 1999

© Illuminate your body regularly, in order to realize on time, where you need to do something preventive. ©

Vine leaf x-rayed by the sun – October 2003

☺ Live the colors of earth: blue like yearning, green like hope and red like love. ☺

Green-red vine leaves in front of a radiating blue sky – October 2003

☺ Walk the way which appears most exciting and colorful for you, and deviate, where it is worthwhile to search deeper. ☺

View on a crossing in the Kappelberg nearby Stuttgart-Fellbach during a Sunday walk – November 1999

© Look proudly at the fruits of your work. Taste pleasurably without upsetting your stomach. ©

A whole tub full of freshly harvested blue grapes of the winemaker Rainer Schnaitmann – October 2003

☺ Do not measure quality based on quantity, but based on substance and sustainability. ☺

A whole tub full of freshly harvested white grapes of the winemaker Rainer Schnaitmann – October 2003

© Rainbows do not only exist between sky and earth. With mindfulness you will find them anywhere. ©

Blue, yellow and red roundel of vine leaves at the Kappelberg nearby Stuttgart-Fellbach – November 1999

☺ Spoil yourself the whole year and flaunt the sparkle of your colors without being embarrassed. 😊

Roundel of vine leaves in sunny, earthly colors – November 2004

© You can not stop the change, but you can enjoy it. ☺

A colorful and branded by life vine leaf shortly before dying – October 2003

☺ Show proudly what you have produced without becoming arrogant. ☺

Bonus-Image: White grapes hanging with their whole splendour and fullness at the vines – October 2003

THANK YOU

for your

TIME