

LISBON

2006

A photographic and inspiring journey through the sunny city of Fado with its hidden and famous treasures that can easily be explored on foot and that will simply stimulate all your senses.

☺ Welcome to the "white" city, in whose winding streets the Fado and other sensual pleasures will surprise you. ☺

View from the castle of Saint George (São Jorge) on to the sea of houses in Lisbon (Portugal) – December 2005

☺ With the appropriate dosage and direction of your energy, you will rarely overshoot your goals. ☺

The Rossio, which officially is called Praca de D. Petro IV, boasts with his arts of fountains (Lisbon - Portugal) – December 2005

☺ Vent your dusty thoughts again and again to let freshness and sunshine into your heart. ☺

Dried laundry joins the static satellite dishes, framed by classic balconies (Lisbon - Portugal) – December 2006

☺ When all the doors are closed, God still leaves a window open. ☺

Colorful house fronts shine in the evening twilight (Lisbon – Portugal) – December 2005

☺ Home is where you feel welcome after your return. ☺

Typical front garden of a private house in Belém (Lisbon - Portugal) – December 2006

☺ Don't just look in one direction, otherwise you will miss some universal miracles. ☺

The Discovery Monument in Belém appears reddish in the evening sun while the moon pays its respect (Lisbon - Portugal) – December 2006

View from the Santa Justa elevator to the Saint George castle (Lisbon – Portugal) – December 2005

☺ Keep looking up and up. The earth presents and surprises you with the most incredible fruits. ☺

The trees in the São Jorge castle complex gracefully carry artistic luminaries in their arms (Lisbon – Portugal) – December 2005

☺ Do not deviate from your path, even if others are creatively and selfishly dancing around on your head. ☺

The shady equestrian statue of Joao I. from 1971 in the square of the fig tree accentuates the fort of São Jorge unselfishly – December 2006

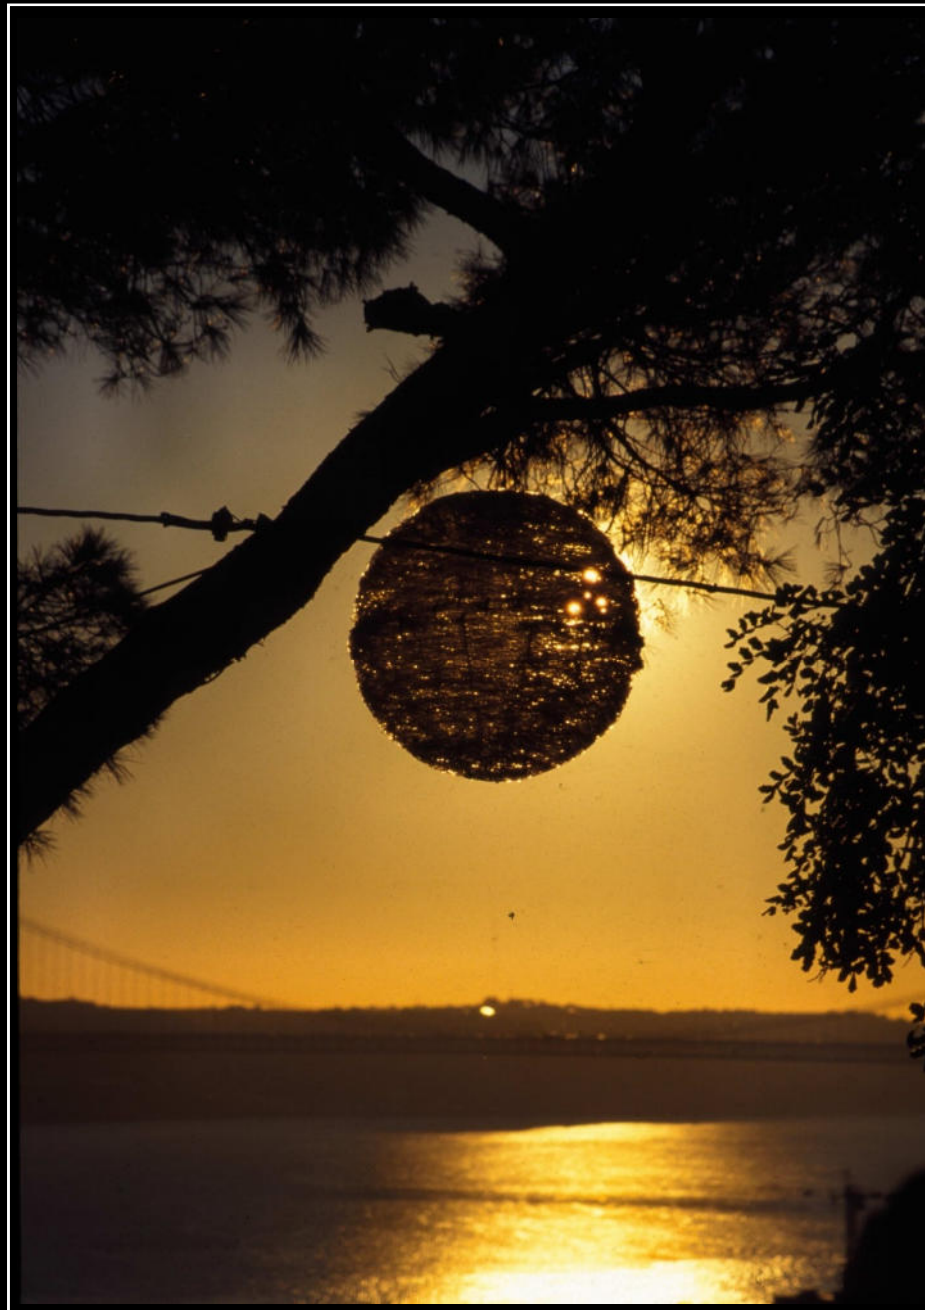

☺ Facing one's shadow means coming to terms with oneself and developing further. ☺
The first rays of sunlight meet the first passers-by in the still slumbering streets of shops and cafés (Lisbon) – December 2005

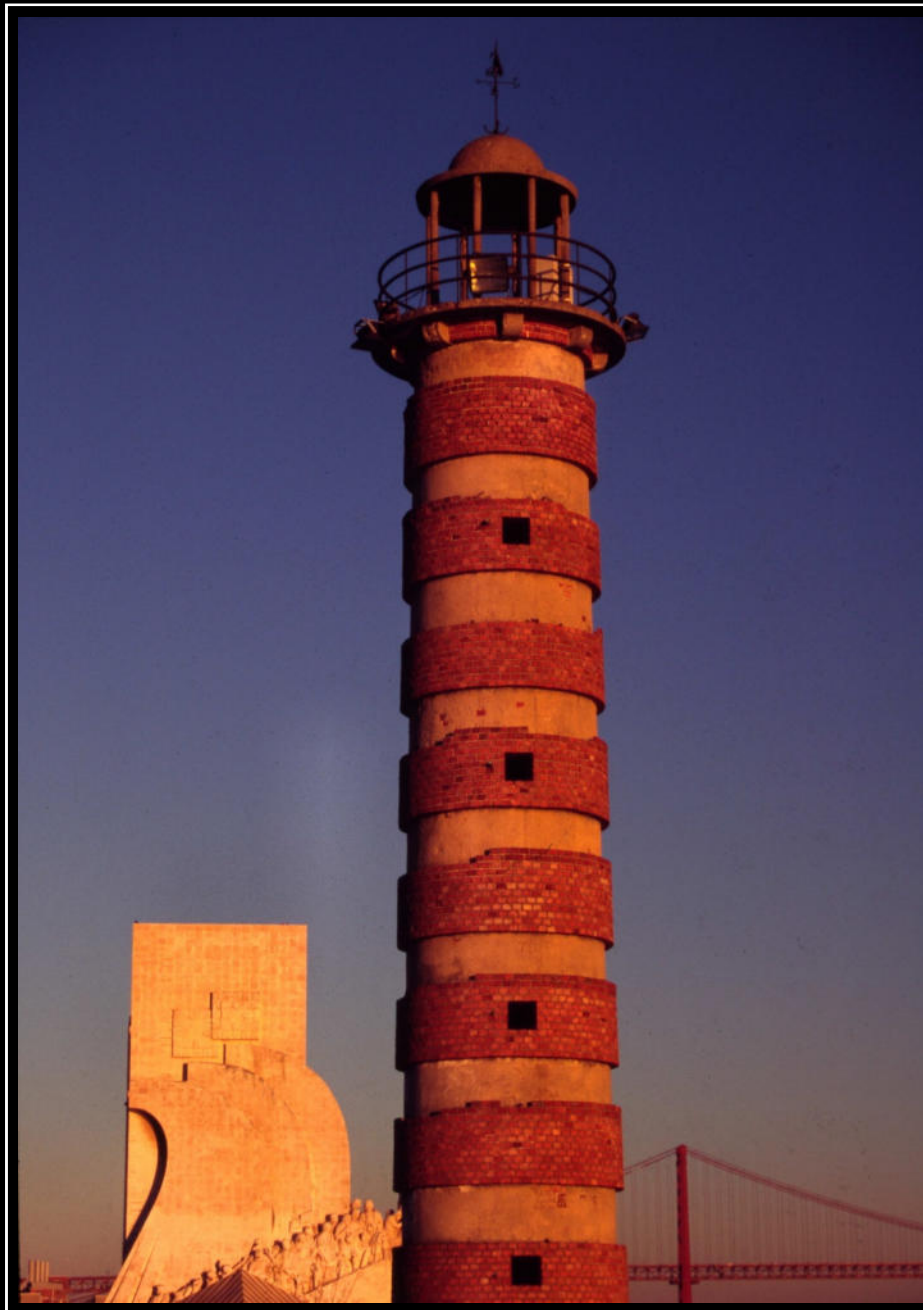

☯ Those who have good friends can face life's wrong paths with cheerfulness. 😊

Picnic atmosphere in the park Eduardo VII with view to the sea (Lisbon - Portugal) – December 2005

☺ It is so easy to ignite your environment:
with the luminous love power of your heart. ☺

View from Fort Saint George to the glowing bridge of April 25th (Lisbon- Portugal) – December 2005

☺ True greatness is not shown in meters of height, but in dealing with different perspectives and points of view. ☺

Belém's three landmarks excel in shape, colour, material and height (Lisbon - Portugal) – December 2005

☺ Wherever and for whomever you let your star of life sparkle, do it with grace, joy and beauty. ☺

The pre-Christmas spirit of the city shows itself in many ways; also in familiar forms ;-) (Lisbon – Portugal) – December 2006

☺ Allow yourself a dignified setting and frame when you provide the best version of yourself for others. ☺

The Azulas (blue tiles), visible everywhere, compete with other buildings in the city (Lisbon – Portugal) – Dezember 2006

☺ It seems to me that the meaning of life is to move upwards in concentric circles in order to grow. And apparently arrived, you start (it) all over again. ☺

The column of King Dom Pedro IV unfolds its real beauty at night instead of the dark statue on top (Lisbon – Portugal) – December 2006
